

Indice/Contents

Mario De Caro, Massimo Marraffa

Premise/Premessa, p. 5

Daniel C. Dennett

What Neuroscience Will Tell Us About Moral Responsibility, p. 21

Felipe De Brigard

Responsibility and the Relevance of Alternative Future Possibilities, p. 25

Lacey J. Davidson

Category Matters: The Interlocking Epistemic and Moral Costs of Implicit Bias, p. 37

Mario De Caro, Benedetta Giovanola

Social Justice, Individualism, and Cooperation: Integrating Political Philosophy and Cognitive Sciences, p. 53

Rossella Guerini, Massimo Marraffa

Lockean Persons, Self-Narratives, and Eudaimonia, p. 65

Andrea Lavazza

Neurolaw and Punishment: a Naturalistic and Humanitarian View, and its Overlooked Perils, p. 81

Uwe Peters

On the Automaticity and Ethics of Belief, p. 99

Simone Pollo

Biology, Ethics and Moral Reflection, p. 115

Massimo Reichlin

Emotions and Morality: is Cognitive Science a Recipe for Ethical Relativism?, p. 127

Maria Grazia Rossi, Daniela Leone, Sarah Bigi

The Ethical Convenience of Non-Neutrality in Medical Encounters: Argumentative Instruments for Healthcare Providers, p. 139

Elisabetta Sirgiovanni

Responsibility and Control in a Neuroethical Perspective, p. 159

Veronica Neri

"Publicity", Privacy and Social Media. The Role of Ethics Above and Beyond the Law, p. 175