

CONTENTS

Phrygia between the East and the West: an introduction Nathan LOVEJOY, Università Ca' Foscari Venezia.	I
 Political identities of Phrygia
Between East and West: Homeric epos, political borders and the Early Phrygian Kingdom Lorenzo D'ALFONSO, New York University (ISAW) & Università di Pavia	II
The great Anatolian melting pot? Migration and State formation at "Phrygian" Gordion Kathryn MORGAN, Duke University.	45
The westernness of Phrygian culture Maya VASSILEVA, New Bulgarian University.	61
A fluid political landscape: power, hegemony and ethnicity in Iron Age Phrygia Marco SANTINI, University of Oxford	75
Fragility and the negotiation of power in the early Phrygian polity Dylan G. WINCHELL, New York University (ISAW)	103
 The Phrygian core: lifeways and technologies
Gordion in the Middle Phrygian Period, ca. 800–540 BCE Charles Brian ROSE, University of Pennsylvania.	119
Cooking at Gordion: some considerations of the Phrygian identity through the analysis of culinary practices Giacomo CASUCCI, Università di Pavia	147
The origins of tumuli at Iron Age Gordion and the significance of a wooden tomb chamber: a contextual interpretation Braden W. CORDIVARI, New York University (ISAW)	171
Export and imitation abroad: the spread of the Reduction Wares in southern Cappadocia Alessio MANTOVAN, Università di Pavia	193

“Phrygian” metal vessels and the introduction of ladles to the Greek world Enrico REGAZZONI, Universität Basel	219
The Phrygian origin of ancient tiled roofs: the case of the architectural terracottas from Gordion Katrin EULER-SASSEVILLE, Philipps-Universität Marburg	239
Interregional interactions and long-distance exchange in Iron Age Anatolia
From Urartian highland to Phrygian highland: some thoughts and observations on relations between the two great kingdoms of the Anatolian Iron Age in light of archaeological data Mehmet IŞIKLI, Atatürk Üniversitesi Erzurum, Oğuz ARAS, Ardahan Üniversitesi, Aysegül AKIN ARAS, Ardahan Üniversitesi and Mehmet Ali ÖZDEMİR, Atatürk Üniversitesi Erzurum	265
Between Urartu and Phrygia: an evaluation of possible cultural relations between the two Iron Age kingdoms Annarita Stefania BONFANTI, Università di Pavia, Andrea CESARETTI, ISMEO and Roberto DAN, Università della Tuscia and ISMEO	291
The Phrygian banquet and its Near Eastern influence: a view from the tableware Adonice-Ackad BAAKLINI, UMR 8167 – Orient et Méditerranée and Margaux SPRUYT, UFR 1001 – CHEC	309
The Mother Goddess at the Black Sea: pushing Phrygia towards the north Lâtife SUMMERER, Arkin University of Creative Arts and Design, Cyprus and Julia M. KOCH, Istanbul Department, German Archaeological Institute, Türkiye	325
Is the peripteros an Anatolian invention? Considerations on the temple model of Daskyleion and its impact on the early archaic temple architecture of Ionia Winfried HELD, Philipps-Universität Marburg.	371
Understanding the use of monument, script and image in the central Anatolian Iron Age
Interregional connections in south-central Anatolia during the early first millennium BCE James OSBORNE, University of Chicago (ISAC) and Michele MASSA, Bilkent Üniversitesi	387

Carving yourself a niche in Anatolia: Phrygian rock-cut monuments in a regional context
Tamás Péter KISBALI, Lomonosov Moscow State University	413
Bird of prey as bird of power in Phrygian Anatolia
Martina DERADA, Italian Archaeological School in Athens.....	435
The one and only Great King Hartapu and the Western Muška
Petra GOEDEGEBUURE, University of Chicago (ISAC)	451
Eneparkes or CAPERE+SCALPRUM? The use of scripts in negotiating identity in Iron Age central Anatolia
Ryan SCHNELL, New York University (ISAW)	475
Comparing adoptions and adaptations: from Anatolia and Greece to Persia and Sub-Saharan Africa
Nino LURAGHI, University of Oxford.....	485
Memory and reception of Phrygia in Graeco-Roman times
Phrygia and the West: from Phrygian migration to Macedonian identity formation
Antonis KOTSONAS, New York University (ISAW).....	499
Memories in motion: reconstructing Greek memoryscapes of ancient Phrygia
Alberto GANDINI, Università di Pavia.....	523
Hierapolis in Phrygia: new research on the Iron Age
Grazia SEMERARO, Università del Salento.....	541
Meter in the Pergamon micro-region: formation, functions and transformation
Felix PIRSON, DAI Istanbul and Güler ATEŞ, Celal Bayar Üniversitesi Manisa ...	561
The cult of Meter Theon in Classical and Hellenistic Athens between Ionian and Attic identity
Francesco SORBELLO, Università di Pavia	583
Food, feasting, and the Roman adoption of Anatolian Cybele
Brigitte KESLINKE, University of Pennsylvania	603
Pessinus of Phrygia over the ages: an archaeological reappraisal
Paolo MARANZANA, Boğaziçi University Istanbul	623